Cladari Label Launch Checklist

■ Unbox the Zebra ZD421. Hold it, admire it, feel your progress.

■ Plug in the printer via USB to your Mac Studio. (No rush, one port at a time.)

■ Load the resin ribbon (it goes underneath the printhead, black side facing down).

■ Load one test loop tag — matte side up, curved side under the guides.

■ Run a test print using the Cladari ZPL template. Ask: 'Let's generate a test label.'

■ Scan the QR code. If it works: smile, fist bump yourself.

■ Place the printed tag next to a real plant. Name the plant out loud.

■ Write down anything that feels off or exciting. You're training your system and your senses.

■ Take a 3-minute dopamine break. Touch a leaf, breathe deep, move your body.

■ Repeat the test for 2–3 more tags. Bonus: Print one with a fake name like 'The Emberkeeper'.

■ Upload a photo of your favorite label to the Cladari folder. Archive the moment.

■ Log the print session in your P&L if ribbon or tags were noticeably used.

■ Celebrate: 'This is real. This is mine. This is Cladari.'
